Berkshiremuseum

Funded in part by High Meadow Foundation

The Berkshire Museum, the area's only art, history and natural science museum for families, presents a spectrum of artists who work with light—either the medium itself or as an element of their work. Nationally-known and emerging artists integrate light in the form of shadows, illusions, glowing jewels, candlelight conjuring up spirits, twilight, and other luminous effects in this engaging contemporary art exhibition.

Influenced by pioneers of light sculpture, these contemporary artists have a surprising, fresh and unexpected approach to light—their works capture or emit light in fascinating and interactive ways, including several site-specific pieces made especially for the Museum.
